

WHY YOU SHOULD CHOOSE SPECIAL COUNSEL FOR DIRECT HIRE LEGAL STAFFING

At Special Counsel, we understand that your firm's reputation is intrinsically tied to the quality of your attorneys and other billable professionals. That's why law firms and corporate legal departments across the country choose Special Counsel as their recruitment partner. Our experienced recruiting consultants match your unique requirements to highly skilled legal professionals from our national network of top-tier candidates.

We believe that there is no substitute for quality, integrity and value.

We are committed to finding not only those professionals with the best skill set but also those who best fit your firm's culture.

We understand the subtleties of the legal search process and work closely with you to ensure a successful outcome.

To ensure that your hiring standards are maintained, and because we believe that there is no substitute for quality, integrity, and value, Special Counsel has developed a team of specialists dedicated exclusively to verifying the credentials of the legal professionals we represent. Special Counsel is the only national legal staffing and search firm with a dedicated, national credentials verification team.

Services include:

- Education and degree verification
- Bar and certification verification
- Employment verification
- Reference checking for a minimum of three professional references

Other services available on request include background checks, credit checks, and drug testing. You are assured that each candidate is thoroughly screened prior to introduction at your firm.

When you are ready to build your practice or legal department, consider the benefits of working with Special Counsel for your recruiting needs. We know the effort involved in finding and placing the right individuals for your firm and will provide you with the scope, professionalism, confidentiality, and results you need.
